1959

Preface

Dan Wilhelm, honorary president, suggested and I suggested that the families in our clan should become better acquainted with each other.

President Myles McComas thought that a historian who would compile a genealogy might be one solution to the problem.

Since there are many descendants of Margaret and David Wilhelm I have outlined the descendants of each of their children.

Every effort has been made to have all content, names and dates accurate and authentic. We have done our best to include as many names as possible. It has been impossible to contact all groups, therefore, some are omitted or partially omitted.

All addresses given are those at the time of this writing.

Although I have collected most of the information through correspondence, interviews and travel, Eileen Fowble and Audrey Langrall have also shared this responsibility.

I am deeply indebted to Audrey Langrall who has written the stories of Margaret and David and outlined the families of Rosa Jane, David, Susan and Margaret Wilhelm and to Eileen Fowble for her work on the family of Peter H. Wilhelm.

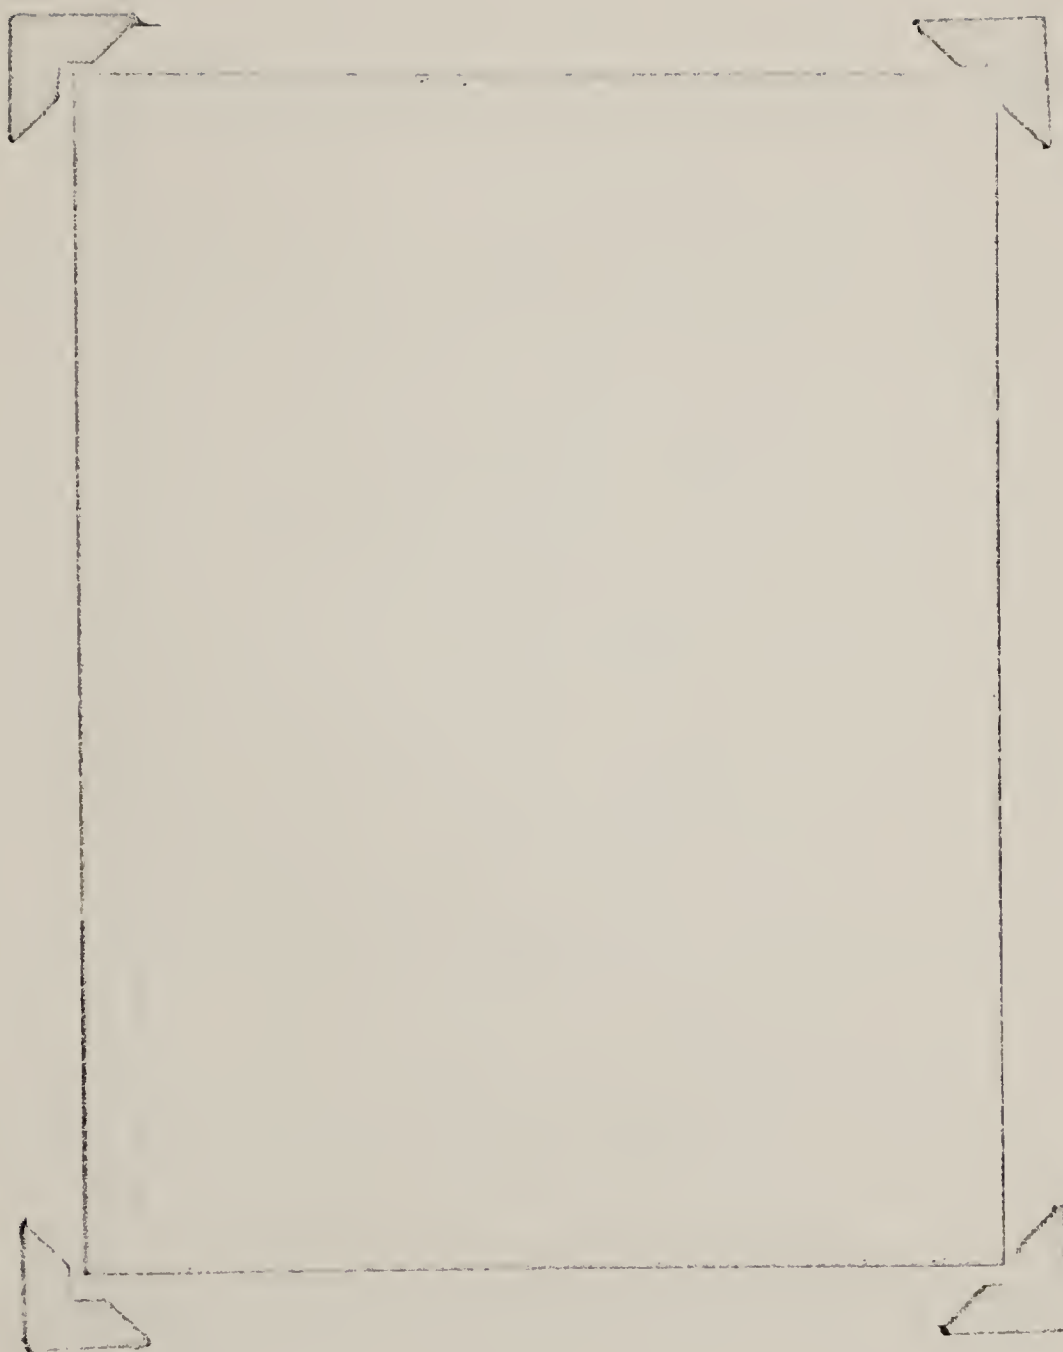

I wish to thank Luray Wilhelm Korman (Mrs. Christopher Korman), Hazel Gullison Harris (Mrs. James Harris), Mr. Myles McComas, Mr. and Mrs. E. Loring, D. R. Best, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Cox, and my mother, Hester May Thompson Cox (Mrs. Wilson Kearney Cox) for their advice and assistance in compiling this material.

My sincere thanks to Miss Shirley Bosley for her careful typing and checking of this genealogy and to her sister, Edith (Mrs. Robert Tracey), Mary Wilhelm Merryman (Mrs. Leo Merryman) and Leona Wilhelm Henry (Mrs. Wilbur Henry) who helped by proofreading the genealogy.

HISTORY OF THE REUNION

The following excerpts copied from the minutes of the secretary, Harrison Cox, tell the story of the first reunion. "The first reunion of the David Wilhelm family was held July 30, 1939 at the old homestead of David and Margaret Wilhelm which was occupied at the time by John Edward Tracey and family, a grandson of David and Margaret Wilhelm.

"The reunion was held in honor of Estella Brumm and family of Portland, Ind., granddaughter of David and Margaret Wilhelm.

"About 200 were present. No program was rendered. All had a social good time. Ice cream was served at a late hour before all returned to their homes.

"Pictures were taken of all first cousins and groups of all by Edward L. Bafford, Photographer of Baltimore.

"Music was rendered by Samuel Hoffacker of New Freedom, Pa. on the piano and accordian.

"The following officers were elected: Dan Wilhelm, president; George Bowen, Vice President; Harrison Cox, secretary; Blaine Mays, treasurer.

"William Martin was appointed by the president Daniel Wilhelm, as chairman of the entertaining committee."

Arrangements including the notifying of first cousins for this first reunion were made by Harrison Cox. Ten A.M. was set as the time for arrival. Most families brought lunch and ate on the lawn.

The next two reunions were held at the Hereford Fireman's Hall, Hereford, Md. on July 7, 1940 and in June 1941.

At the reunion in 1940 the secretary's minutes included in detail the program which consisted of ducts, recitations, and group singing followed by an address by Rev. Clifford Smith.

Because of the war, no reunions were held until August 24, 1947. At this meeting which was held at the Salem Picnic Grove, the reunion was reorganized under the leadership of Bill Martin. It was also decided to hold the next reunion at Salem on the second Sunday of September. This date has become the standing date for the reunion.

In 1951, the reunion was held at the Fireman's Grove in Reisterstown, Md. and has been the meeting place up to the present time. This year, 1959, will mark the Sixteenth Annual Reunion of the David Wilhelm Clan.

THE WILHELM-HOOVER LINEAGE

David Wilhelm was born September 10, 1815 and died at the age of 72 on April 28, 1888. He was a descendant of Frederick Wilhelm, who according to the late Billy R. Wilhelm of Ladiesburg, Maryland, came to America from Germany and settled at Middletown, Baltimore County, Maryland. We do not know how many generations existed between Frederick and David Wilhelm, but some descendants believe David to be the grandson. A survey of the oldest cemeteries in the area do not reveal a Wilhelm who would be the age of David's father. It is possible that he was buried in a family burial spot on the farm. Frederick's first wife was German, but we do not know whether they were married in Germany or in America. After her death he married an Irish woman and it is said that the two groups of children of these marriages seemed to have been in perpetual disagreement, with the result that one group (perhaps the first) moved to the Black Rock or White House area in Baltimore County. Records to prove the marriages were located at Stiltz Church in Stiltz, Pennsylvania, where they were destroyed by fire some-time ago. David is believed to have had a brother, George. As Susan Wilhelm Cox, daughter of David, visited her son Kearney and his family at Mt. Carmel near White House, she would often look across the fields to a house owned by Mr. Jacob Turnbaugh and reflect, "That looks like Uncle George Wilhelm's house." Kearney's wife, May Thompson Cox can well remember hearing her mother-in-law making this statement. It seems reasonable then to assume that David had at least one brother, David was married to Margaret Hoover, the daughter of Henry and Susannah Hoover. The exact date of their marriage is unknown today. Their first child, John Henry, was born September 16, 1842. Margaret, we know, was a member of the Salem E.U.B. Church on Falls Road, so it is possible that she and David were married there or in her home on Falls Road near Black Rock. Margaret was born July 3, 1821 and died four months before her 84th birthday on March 23, 1905.

Twelve children were born of this marriage.

To reach David's home at Black Rock one would travel north on Falls Road from the crossroads at Black Rock, turn right at the first lane, proceed first up a hill and then down a long winding lane to the house. A log house once stood by the spring. In 1857, at the age of 42, David began work on the three-story basemented house which he built against the hill near the spring. Lillie Cox Kemp, a granddaughter, quotes David as saying (in reference to his wife), "She came out of a brick house, so I want her to live in one." John Hayes, a grandson, says, "The house was built during the Civil War and they say the workmen could hear the roar of the cannon at Gettysburg." The Battle at Gettysburg took place July 1-3, 1863, so that we can appreciate the length of time involved in building a house then as compared to 1959, the time of this writing, when a house of comparable size can be raised in a matter of months. The bricks used in the David Wilhelm home, however, were made by hand right on the farm. Harrison Cox, a grandson, says that his mother, Susan, helped to make these bricks. The interior woodwork and the shutters were planed by hand.

This farm is now owned by Mr. William O. Miller, Jr. Many of David's grandchildren who would remember him are now deceased. May Thompson Cox, recalls the childhood stories related to her by her husband, Kearney, about his grandfather, David. It seems that the stair railings from the first to third floors of David's home must have been a delight for many of the grandchildren, Kearney included. The boy would start at the top and when he arrived on the first floor David would rise to the situation by shaking his reprimanding cane at the lad, probably warning him of the danger of such antics. Kearney also told of being sent to the cellar for apples, but sternly reminded to choose only the specked ones. Dan W. Wilhelm of York, Pennsylvania related in a recent letter, "I remember visiting at the home of my grandparents, David and Margaret Wilhelm, in Baltimore County, I think in about the year 1888 with my parents. (I was about 6 years old.) I remember Grandfather was very pleasant and he had twinkling eyes and held me on his knee. . . ." George Bowen recalls that he has heard his mother, Mary Catherine, say that her father upon reaching the Ten Mile House on Reisterstown Road one day, discovered he had been overpaid. He returned then to the city with his wagon and team to repay the extra money. Before his death David was a victim of rheumatism and it is said, was confined to a wheel chair. After his death he was buried in the family cemetery behind the barn. Six years later Margaret had his body removed, together with that of a young son, Jacob Theodore, to the Salem E.U.B. Cemetery on Falls Road. It is evident from a conversation that Margaret had with her granddaughter, Lillie Cox Kemp, that she wished to be buried at Salem also. She must have realized that with the passing of years, family burial grounds would surely be forgotten and eventually become part of the farmland.

Margaret's father, Henry Hoover, was born in October 1780 and died June 7, 1852 at the age of 71. His wife, Susannah was born June 27, 1783 and died February 27, 1865, exactly four months before her 82nd birthday. Among some of her last words were, "Jesus Christ died for our sins." This information comes from the stones which mark these graves in St. Abraham Lutheran Church Cemetery in Beckleysville, Baltimore County, Maryland. The graves of Henry and Susannah Hoover, the family of their son John, and the first wife of their son Peter (Susan) are all located in two rows at the southwest corner of the cemetery. Near the middle, in a row, are found the grave lots of Peter and his second wife (Elizabeth Grim Hoover), Jacob and Catharine Hoover Resh, and William and Susannah Hoover Sparks. Henry Hoover moved his family from Hoffmanville to a brick house on Falls Road near Black Rock. It is the first brick house on the left, traveling north beyond the crossroads at Black Rock. This house was built around 1801. There was a large family: John (m. Malinda W. ? , May 18, 1818 - August 27, 1875), Henry, Peter (October 29, 1823 - November 12, 1900, m. first Susan ? , October 23, 1817 - January 8, 1861, m. secondly Elizabeth Grim, April 9, 1825 - March 26, 1910), Polly Hoover Stansbury, Catharine Hoover Resh (d. January 23, 189(2 or 7), m. Jacob Resh, September 20, 1812 - January 30, 1885), Mary, Lydia Hoover Cooper, Sally Hoover Armacost, Susanna Hoover Sparks (May 12, 1828 - July 1, 1916, m. William C. Sparks, March 3, 1827 - October 12, 1911), and of course Margaret, Peter and Margaret spoke German fluently. Henry Hoover's livelihood was derived from several sources. He farmed, made whiskey, and was keeper of a roadhouse or tavern, on Falls Road. The latter was a lodging place for the Pennsylvania hucksters and farmers who travelled the road hauling produce in horse and wagon to Baltimore where they traded. Peddlers, when in this area, made this their resting place too. It is said that tramps were never turned away hungry. All who can recall her, remember Margaret as a genuinely fine person whose religious beliefs and convictions were deep-rooted and sincere. She walked to her church (Salem was first known as the Academy, later Mt. Olive) as regularly and as often as services were held. Della Cox Hayes tells how her grandmother would stop at their lane on her way to church and call, "Susan, come on, make haste." Hayes, Della's brother, would say, "Ma, make haste! Granny's on the corner." Kearney Cox often told how his grandmother called her family together for prayers at the reunion she held for her son, John, on one of his visits East. In a letter from Dan W. Wilhelm he says, ". . . I well remember my grandmother, as she visited us occasionally later on. She was nice looking, very pleasant and witty. One thing I remember vividly: On a Sunday morning she was going with us all to church, two miles away and was, of course, ready to go before anyone else, when she called to my father and said, "Dave, I'll just walk on awhile." (The horse and carriage were waiting.) We all thought this was pretty cute of Grandma. Grandma was about 80 years old." After David's death Margaret continued to live in their farm home, but she often visited the homes of her several children. George Bowen, son of Mary Catherine (Molly) related that, ". . . she came during the winter months and stayed awhile." He thought that she was about 75 at the time of her visits. He was impressed with the honesty and frankness of her opinions and with her fine character. During her stay George recalled that a very large package was delivered to his sister, Stella. The delivery man said as he left the box at the door, "A case for Miss Bowen.", to which Grandma Margaret promptly replied, "She doesn't have time to go to court!" Margaret often visited her daughter Susan Cox and her family as the Cox home was within walking distance. Della, Susan's daughter remembers, "She would sit reading the Bible and Ollie, my brother, would say, 'Grandma, what are you readin' that Bible for all the time?' Grandma would close the book gently and say, 'I want to love you like I do the rest, but Susan you MUST take that boy in hand.'" Margaret died of pneumonia and was buried beside her husband in the Salem Churchyard. Morris, son of Wesley Wilhelm, recalls his grandmother with snow white hair, propped up in bed during her illness. In an interview, Peter Wilhelm, another grandson, says, "Our mother called us into the room at night. Our grandmother was dying."

At the death of Henry Hoover a portion of land was deeded to his daughter Susanna, and Margaret received money. Their brother Peter remained at the home place near Black Rock. When David Wilhelm died Margaret continued to live at their home (near the Hoover place) and her son Peter and his family lived with her.

It is interesting to note that the majority of the descendants of David and Margaret Wilhelm live in Maryland (particularly Baltimore and Carroll Counties and Baltimore City), Pennsylvania, Washington, D.C., Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and California.

States in which single or several families reside are as follows: Delaware, Florida, New York, Ohio, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada and Washington.

Canada is the only country represented outside the U.S.A.

EXPLANATION OF OUTLINE

The Roman numerals i, ii, iii (or I, II, III) denote the children in order of birth.

The small numbers following the given name indicate the generation.

Example: George Emory<sup>3</sup> Wilhelm

Each generation is indented. Example:

I GEORGE EMORY<sup>3</sup> WILHELM (3rd generation)
Issue: (His children in order of birth) i Vern E.<sup>4</sup> Wilhelm (4th generation)
i John Henry<sup>5</sup> Wilhelm (5th generation) Issue: i John<sup>6</sup>
ii Kay<sup>6</sup>
ii Glenn<sup>4</sup> Wilhelm (2nd child of George Emory W.)

All of one person's family is indented under his name as in the example of Vern Wilhelm. All of Glenn Wilhelm's family will be listed under his name.

FAMILY OF JOHN HENRY<sup>2</sup> (DAVID<sup>1</sup>) WILHELM

- * JOHN HENRY<sup>2</sup> WILHELM (David<sup>1</sup>) first child of David and Margaret Hoover Wilhelm, b. September 16, 1842 probably at the farm which we refer to as the Wilhelm homestead.

The following account from History of Mayor of Canton, Illinois Lawrence Wilhelm, gives an account of John Henry Wilhelm's life: "In young manhood John H. Wilhelm left Maryland, where his ancestors of German birth had settled, and came as far west as Richmond, Indiana and from there he enlisted for service in the war between the states, in the Nineteenth Indiana Calvary. Injured by his horse falling on him, when shot on the battlefield, he never fully recovered. After the close of the war, he worked as a hired man near Middleboro, Indiana, and in a stone quarry as a limemaker and at other tasks. After his marriage he moved to a farm near Middleboro, Indiana and remained on it for two years, going then into Jay County, Indiana and was engaged in farming on a tract of land near Portland that alternated swamp and timber land and was difficult to handle. . . ."

At the time of the above writing his wife survived him. She was before her marriage, Martha Baker, dau. of John Baker of Huntington, Indiana.

Many descendants of this family live in Indiana, Michigan and California. Eight children: Order given in letter from Lena May Wilhelm Alsbaugh.

FAMILY OF ROSA JANE<sup>2</sup> WILHELM BUCHEN

ROSA JANE<sup>2</sup> WILHELM (David<sup>1</sup>), second child of David and Margaret Hoover Wilhelm b. November 26, 1843, d. January 30, 1920 was m. to David Z. Buchen of Carroll County, Md. on May 26, 1864 by O. W. Hoffmeirer, U.O.M. At the close of the Civil War, Rosa Jane, together with her husband and two children, David and Edward, travelled by rail to Canton, Illinois. She was united in early youth with the Methodist Episcopal Church and as an ardent life member was devoted to its teachings. The family Bible lay opened at all times upon a living room table. David read a chapter each day. With her husband and family, Rosa Jane lived in Blyton, Deerfield Township, Fulton County, Illinois in the same home for forty years. Her burial was in Wiley Cemetery across the street from Wiley Church in Blyton. Many of Rosa Jane's descendants live in Illinois. Issue:

FAMILY OF WILLIAM FRANKLIN<sup>2</sup> WILHELM

WILLIAM FRANKLIN<sup>2</sup> WILHELM (David<sup>1</sup>) eighth child of David and Margaret Hoover Wilhelm, was born April 16, 1854 in Baltimore County, Maryland. He married Barbara Ellen Howard, sister of George Howard who was an undertaker at Hereford, Maryland. Before moving to Illinois and then to California, Frank and his family had lived at the home place and at Alesia, Maryland. While living in California he returned several times to visit with his relatives. He always visited our family, and I remember him as a tall, angular man. His last visit was during the construction of Prettyboy Dam.

He and his great nephew William Cox, my brother, walked about three miles to see the dam. Frank died several years after this visit to the East.

Many descendants live in California. Children - order uncertain:

- / I David Howard<sup>3</sup> Wilhelm
- / II John Wesley<sup>3</sup> Wilhelm
- III William Franklin<sup>3</sup> Wilhelm
- / IV Hester Virginia<sup>3</sup> Wilhelm
- / V Bertha Ellen<sup>3</sup> Wilhelm

FAMILY OF SARAH ELIZABETH<sup>2</sup> WILHELM

SARAH ELIZABETH<sup>2</sup> WILHELM (David<sup>1</sup>), eleventh child of David and Margaret Hoover Wilhelm, was born April 15, 1861. M. (I) John Edward Tracey and lived at Foreston, Baltimore County, Maryland. M. (II) Theodore Wilhelm on January 24, 1883 at Hereford, Baltimore County, Maryland. The officiating minister was Rev. Sadie V. Case of the M.E. Church. Aunt Sally, as I had always heard my father, Wilson Kearney Cox, speak of her, and Theodore lived on a farm which was located on the Benson Mill Road, Baltimore County, Maryland. A beautiful, big brick house stood on a slope surrounded by meadows, gently rolling hills, and woods. Sarah died May 29, 1909 and was buried in Foreston Baptist Cemetery, Baltimore County, Maryland.

Many of the descendants of Sarah live in Baltimore County, Baltimore City and Carroll County.
